

Internships

Experience the Future

If you are uncertain about whether or not to pursue an internship during college, the statistics alone should convince you to do one.

Employers overwhelmingly point to internship experience as the most important factor they consider in hiring new college graduates for full-time positions.

NO. 1
factor

85% of companies use internship programs to recruit full-time workforces

Internships give students...

Hands-on experience in field of study
Credit hours (replacing a major elective)
Increased marketability upon graduation
The chance of being hired by host employer

Since 2013, over 600 students have participated in the internship program.

If you are already working in a job related to your major, you can use that job to replace a major elective!

The process is easy and fast. Contact us now for an appointment
